

Alterna's MarketTracer Canadian Index Term Deposit

An investment that gives you the best of both worlds! Alterna's MarketTracer is similar to a term deposit, but the return is based on the performance of the S&P/TSX60 index. That means, you can participate in the Canadian stock market while guaranteeing 100% of your principal investment.

Key Benefits

- Growth Potential: Higher return potential based on the performance of some of the largest companies in Canada
- Diversification: Participation in the Canadian stock market
- Peace of mind: Guaranteed principal, no risk to your initial investment

Your Return

Alterna uses the monthly average of the index over the term of the MarketTracer vs. the percentage gain of the index between the issue and maturity date. The average return calculation is less risky in the event that the market declines around the time of your maturity date.

Your return is based on the performance of the S&P/TSX60 index—the most widely traded equity index in Canada. The exact formulas are as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Cumulative Total Monthly Return of Index}}{\text{Term of your MarketTracer (in months)}} = \text{Average Growth of Index}$$

Definitions

Cumulative total monthly return of index: Addition of the closing values of the index on each valuation date of the term.

Initial Index Level (also known as Strike Price): The closing value of the index on the start date of the term.

Participation Rate: The participation rate is set by Alterna and provides you with a percentage of the growth in the market index. It is set at the time of purchase and does not change during the term of the MarketTracer.
